Robert S. McNamara's handling of the controversial TFX fighter plane contract, awarded to the General Dynamics Corp. despite the lower bid of Boeing Co. The more the Senate Investigations subcommittee explores the contract at hearings, Kennedy said, "the more convinced people are finally that Secretary McNamara is a very effective secretary of defense and that we are lucky to have him."
Kennedy said McNamara "is willing to make hard decisions" and doesn't mind "that a good many people don't like it." The President said McNamara rejected a n appeal by Kennedy's own brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., concerning a contract award.
Also in the domestic field, the President said there is nothing to reports that Postmaster General J. Edward Day will resign before 1964 election.
The President's hopes for a nuclear test ban agreement with the Soviet Union "are somewhat dimmed" but he said the United States will continue working toward that end "because personally I am haunted by the feeling that by 1970, unless we are successful, there may be 10 nuclear powers instead of four, and by 1975, 15 or 20."

Attacking Mr.

Dear Helen: Do you believe in pre-natal influence? Before my daughter was born I saw three people drown. It was terrible for I could not swim myself else, pregnant or not, I should have done my utmost to save them for they were all dear friends. But there I stood on the shore, helpless and alone; not a single person within shouting distance.

Soon after I gave birth to our girl, while in her teens she ran away. Strangers reared her. I have not talked nor been within reach of her since. She refuses to come home, let alone write, and returns all my letters unopened. I've written her again and again that I'm sorry for anything I might have done but still she refuses to see me.

Occasionally catch a glimpse of her from a distance. She is married now, in her twenties, and has two children whom I have yet to lay eyes on. I lie awake nights grieving about this tragedy. My darling child, my flesh and blood so near and yet — so far! What can I do? Please answer this in your column. —Broken-hearted Mother

Dear Broken-hearted: Pre-natal influence is debatable. Whatever the cause of your daughter's lack of affection, look to the future not the past. Your best bet would be to have a friend, perhaps your minister, or even the doctor who brought your daughter into the world, if he still lives, to intervene for you and plead with your daughter that she allow you to see your grandchildren.

You might send them a few little gifts to break down the resistance. From what you say, a direct approach would only lead to a harsh no and leave you rebuffed and hurt.

Dear Helen: My brother hates the man I love yet they were once friends. In fact we met through him. Now my brother tells him not to come around any more. My boy friend is afraid of him, he being so big and an amateur boxer, which makes it worse. What can I do? —Upset

Dear Upset: You don't have to take anything from your brother, pugilist or not. If he continues to bluff your boy friend, bring him down to size by deflating his ego. Being his sister, you must know his weakest points. Hit them.

Dear Helen: I have a husband who refuses to pay his bills. Things got so bad a few years ago we had creditors beating on our door day and night. Finally by pinching and scrimping, I managed to pay them off and we moved to another community to start a new life.

Everything was fine for a couple of months for we paid as we went. Unbeknown to me, my husband asked for credit. Now we're back on the same old debtors' treadmill. The gas company phoned yesterday to give us a last warning. We are months behind in rent and I'm ready to dig a hole and draw it in after me. I've got so I flee around the block rather than meet another creditor face to face.

This morning's mail brought a letter from the Credit Bureau which lies unopened on the hall table. I fear the worst. My husband's income, due to the fact that he works on a percentage basis, is irregular; $400 one month, $1,000 the next. He has no compunction about spending but when it comes to paying bills, is as irresponsible as a robin.

He's 32, I am 29. We have four fine children and aside from this ever-present financial crisis, are a happy couple. I've tried to dis-

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati meets Oregon State in Chicago. Loyola plays racehorses with Duke's Blue Devils tonight as basketball's big three and upstart that could steal it reach the showdown stage in National Collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record that straight NCAA champions plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the double-header that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play for championship Saturday night. Sellout record crowds of 19,000 will stream both nights into new Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, winners the Bearcats of Ed Jucker to their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of the Jaguars and the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes.

The current Bearcats, although they've won 25 of 26 game since The Associated Press' poll from start to finish, aren't ranked as strong as the clubs that spoiled Ohio State and the grudge last year and in the final at Kansas City.

"You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of the five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared, and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

Spring water is shipped over the midwest from European springs.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former champion Davey Moore was in a coma suffering from "a serious head injury" and his chances of living are poor, a hospital physician said early today after the former champion lost his title to Sugar Ramos in one of three title fights here Thursday night.

Dr. Phillip Vogel reported the former featherweight champion was in a deep coma.

"His chances are extremely poor," Dr. Vogel said. He added that Moore had suffered general injury to the mid-brain area and said that Moore's fate probably

All three boxing titles up for grabs had new owners today after a pair of spectacular knockouts and a controversial decision in the ballyhooed triple championship fight extravaganza.

A crowd of 26,142 watched as Ramos won the featherweight title in the middle bout by kayoing Moore—who was taken by ambulance to a hospital about an hour after the fight. He was unconscious and serious wounds were taken

In the opener at Dodger Stadium, Luis Rodriguez took the welterweight championship away from Emile Griffith on a decision—unanimous but subject to argument. In the windup, Roberto Cruz wound up and knocked out Batting Torres in the first round, and won the vacant junior welterweight title.

The doctor described Moore's injury as a contusion, more serious than a brain concussion. Boxing officials, including Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, who had asked the bout be stopped, kept vigil at White Memorial Hospital.

Ramos, who lost the early rounds, smashed Moore down in the 10th round and had him draped over a rope and helpless as the round ended.
